SAMPLE ARTICLE TITLE

Indiana Department of Transportation Commissioner Joe McGuinness told WSIX, "With much of that freight moving through Indiana on our highways, providing real-time information to truckers on where to find safe parking at the end of their shifts is one of the most effective ways we can preserve safety for all motorists. INDOT is proud to join seven other states in making interstate travel safer across our region."

You can click here to learn more, to access real time parking information from the states that are currently providing it, and to learn about smartphone apps that are sharing the parking availability data.

You can also take a look at the video below to learn more about how the Trucks Park Here system works.
